Workshop on

Best Practices of Climate Change

Adaptation in the Wadden Sea Region

"UNESCO World Heritage Wadden Sea Visitor Centre"

26382 Wilhelmshaven, Germany

26-27 September 2017

----- Save-the-date -----

The Task Group Climate consisting of Dutch-German-Danish representatives within the Trilateral Wadden Sea Cooperation is pleased to announce a workshop on "Best practices of Climate Change Adaptation in the Wadden Sea Region".

Target group: professionals, policy makers and managers in the fields of nature conservation, spatial planning and coastal risk management.

Goals of the workshop / Why should you come:

- Meet other experts working on the Wadden Sea and enhance your (trilateral) network,
- Get to know about interesting projects in the Wadden Sea,
- Discover how other countries are dealing with similar challenges,
- Get informed on the trilateral climate adaptation strategy and see how you can contribute making the Wadden Sea more resistant to climate change.

Topics: major presentations are about innovative coastal defence, dune management, water management, coastal habitat restoration and integrated coastal management and planning. All projects are either completed or in advanced planning stage.

An excursion to the salt marsh restoration site "Langwarder Groden" near Wilhelmshaven is planned for the second day of the workshop.

The preliminary programme and further information is expected to be released around mid-June on <http://www.waddensea-secretariat.org/>
